

Minnesota Technology and Engineering Educators Association

An International Technology and Engineering Educators Association Affiliate

An Organization That:

- Sponsors a Fall Conference – the single best place to find out what’s going on in teaching technology with presentations, demonstrations and commercial vendors.
- Is instrumental in advocating for inclusion of technology as a Minnesota graduation outcome.
- Works cooperatively with the Minnesota Department of Education to develop teachers licensure, program standards and other matters of mutual concern.
- Hosted the 1992 ITEA Conference.
- Networks with organizations like SciMath Minnesota, the Minnesota Association for Career and Technical Education, the Minnesota High Tech Association and the Minnesota Precision Manufacturing Association to promote teaching about technology.
- Was instrumental in passing legislation to have state universities review their entrance requirements regarding technology.
- Hosted the 2011 ITEEA Conference.
- Sponsors competitions and workshops for technology teachers and students.
- Recognizes teachers for their accomplishments with awards for outstanding teachers, programs, 25-year awards and retiree awards.
- Provides up to date information through our web page at www.mteea.net
